

IRISH 'REPUBLICANS' HELD IN DRAFT CASE

Four Who Refused Ruling of Board on Citizenship Must Stand Trial.

14 ENEMY ALIENS GO

Von Streich Among Thirty-eight Suspected Persons Sent South.

Four men who called themselves dis-

sents of the republic of Ireland and demanded that they be granted status as

aliens under the law, were held in

custody yesterday.

The men were Sean O'Hearn, Lawrence O'Neill, Patrick J. Flanagan and

Paul A. Hayes, all of 140 West Thirty-

fourth street. They are Irish aliens.

Hayes described himself as an active member of the American Communist party.

The men were arrested by Federal

Bureau agents at 12:30 a.m. yesterday morning.

They were held in the Federal Detain-

ce Center at 20th and Madison streets.

Four men who called themselves dis-

sents of the republic of Ireland and de-

manded that they be granted status as

aliens under the law, were held in

custody yesterday.

The men were Sean O'Hearn, Law-

rence O'Neill, Patrick J. Flanagan and

Paul A. Hayes, all of 140 West Thirty-

fourth street. They are Irish aliens.

Hayes described himself as an active member of the American Communist party.

The men were arrested by Federal

Bureau agents at 12:30 a.m. yester-

day morning.

They were held in the Federal Detain-

ce Center at 20th and Madison streets.

Four men who called themselves dis-

sents of the republic of Ireland and de-

manded that they be granted status as

aliens under the law, were held in

custody yesterday.

The men were Sean O'Hearn, Law-

rence O'Neill, Patrick J. Flanagan and

Paul A. Hayes, all of 140 West Thirty-

fourth street. They are Irish aliens.

Hayes described himself as an active member of the American Communist party.

The men were arrested by Federal

Bureau agents at 12:30 a.m. yester-

day morning.

They were held in the Federal Detain-

ce Center at 20th and Madison streets.

Four men who called themselves dis-

sents of the republic of Ireland and de-

manded that they be granted status as

aliens under the law, were held in

custody yesterday.

The men were Sean O'Hearn, Law-

rence O'Neill, Patrick J. Flanagan and

Paul A. Hayes, all of 140 West Thirty-

fourth street. They are Irish aliens.

Hayes described himself as an active member of the American Communist party.

The men were arrested by Federal

Bureau agents at 12:30 a.m. yester-

day morning.

They were held in the Federal Detain-

ce Center at 20th and Madison streets.

Four men who called themselves dis-

sents of the republic of Ireland and de-

manded that they be granted status as

aliens under the law, were held in

custody yesterday.

The men were Sean O'Hearn, Law-

rence O'Neill, Patrick J. Flanagan and

Paul A. Hayes, all of 140 West Thirty-

fourth street. They are Irish aliens.

Hayes described himself as an active member of the American Communist party.

The men were arrested by Federal

Bureau agents at 12:30 a.m. yester-

day morning.

They were held in the Federal Detain-

ce Center at 20th and Madison streets.

Four men who called themselves dis-

sents of the republic of Ireland and de-

manded that they be granted status as

aliens under the law, were held in

custody yesterday.

The men were Sean O'Hearn, Law-

rence O'Neill, Patrick J. Flanagan and

Paul A. Hayes, all of 140 West Thirty-

fourth street. They are Irish aliens.

Hayes described himself as an active member of the American Communist party.

The men were arrested by Federal

Bureau agents at 12:30 a.m. yester-

day morning.

They were held in the Federal Detain-

ce Center at 20th and Madison streets.

CONVICT RELEASED ON WRIT HE DREW

Had Served for Months After Sentence Expired.

Four Who Refused Ruling of Board on Citizenship Must Stand Trial.

14 ENEMY ALIENS GO

Von Streich Among Thirty-eight Suspected Persons Sent South.

EX-FORGER LOSES ACCOUNTANCY FIGHT

Court Refuses to Order Him Restated as Member of Society.

Albert Star Morris of 401 Convent Avenue, a certified accountant, made application yesterday to Supreme Court Justice Connelly for an order requiring the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants to restate him as a member and to record a resolution passed on March 18 dissenting that his case be referred to the Board of Regents.

By an own admission Morris has a long record of service to the public and has been a member of the accounting profession for 25 years.

Another thing that made up the case was that Morris had been discharged from the accounting profession by the Board of Regents in 1914.

Four months ago Morris filed a complaint against the Board of Regents, charging that it had acted unfairly in discharging him.

He was granted a hearing before the Board of Regents on April 16, 1915, and the Board voted to sustain the charge.

Morris then appealed to the State

Commissioner of Education, who referred the case to the Board of Regents.

After a hearing before the Board of

Regents on April 23, 1915, the Board

voted to sustain the charge.

Morris then appealed to the State

Commissioner of Education, who

referred the case to the Board of Regents.

After a hearing before the Board of

Regents on April 23, 1915, the Board

voted to sustain the charge.

Morris then appealed to the State

Commissioner of Education, who

referred the case to the Board of Regents.

After a hearing before the Board of

Regents on April 23, 1915, the Board

voted to sustain the charge.

Morris then appealed to the State

Commissioner of Education, who

referred the case to the Board of Regents.

After a hearing before the Board of

Regents on April 23, 1915, the Board

voted to sustain the charge.

Morris then appealed to the State

Commissioner of Education, who

referred the case to the Board of Regents.

After a hearing before the Board of

Regents on April 23, 1915, the Board

voted to sustain the charge.

Morris then appealed to the State

Commissioner of Education, who

referred the case to the Board of